Introduction.

It may be that we are better followers of Confucius than at first glance might appear, for if we do not worship our ancestors we at least are interested in them. At any rate, it is so harmless a fad that it needs in pursuing no excuse.

A genealogy of the Waterman family is not presented because it is an extraordinary one, for I find no member greatly elevated above his fellows and none greatly depressed below the level of ordinary citizenship; but the history is that of thousands of other families—the history of the common people—the every day history of the component parts of a great nation from the beginning to the present time. This family has borne its part, along with other families, to make up a great commonwealth. They have been farmers, mechanics, doctors, lawyers, soldiers, teachers, journalists, artists and musicians, attaining in some cases rank and eminence, and in this volume the writer will try to tell the story of those who came within the circle of his knowledge through the study of records and correspondence with those living at the present time.

The Watermans have ever been pioneers—pioneers in thought and deed. That they were Puritans in the early days of the family on this side of the Atlantic goes without saying from the date of their arrival and the company they were in. They have always kept up the character of pioneers. The writer has found them in most of the states of the Union and their mark has been left where the family itself has disappeared. There are, at least, two villages named for members of the family—one in Illinois and one in California, and there is a Waterman Avenue in the city of St. Louis.

During the eighteenth century several members of the familiy found their way to what is now the state of Maine, then a district of Massachusetts, and it is to tell the story of these Maine families that this book has been written. It has been thought necessary to prefix an account of the family in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut before coming to Maine. The book could have been made much larger by including branches of the family in other states; but the writer has thought best to confine himself to Maine. A catalogue of names, such as a genealogy must be, is many times dry reading, and this book may be considered long enough by the reader; and to use the words of the member of the family who wears the cap and bells, Nixon Waterman, and used as a foreward to his little volume of verse entittled "In Merry Mood:"

This little book is not so bad,
Or so it seems to me,
As what you might have thought it had
I made it thicker, See?

Of course it is impossible to trace the lives of all the members of the family. There are some who are only names, whose life stories are untold and whose resting places are unknown. They are the unknown dead of the family for which we drop a tear. There are also, doubtless, mistakes which have crept into this volume, and for them forgive—they were unintentional—for no man would knowingly wrong his family.

Part First.

Watermans of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut.

Genesis.

The Waterman family appears to be an ancient one. The word Waterman is not only good English, but good Angle-Saxon (Wæterman. or Wætermann, Wætermon or Wætermonn), good Old Saxon (Waterman or Watermann), and good Old Friesic (Wetirman or Weterman), whereby it appears that the patronymic of the family may have been first applied to some hardy boatman on the Elbe, the Weser, or their tributaries, at that far off time when a man received his name from his calling. Some of these hardy Saxons by the name must have followed in the wake of Hengist and Horsa in that great migration to England sometime between the years 500 and 900 A. D. The earliest accounts of the family in England are in County Kent, founded by those ancient leaders. Arthur says the name was common in that county in the sixteenth century. I have further reasons for believing in the Teutonic origin of the family. Within the last 50 years, at least four families by the name of Waterman have arrived in America from the German province of Hanover, the very heart of this old Saxon emigration, and they have informed me, that their ancestors had lived there for many generations.

That the family was of some importance in England is evidenced by the fact that coats of arms were conferred upon two branches of it; also upon the Waterman Company of London.

The first member of the family to settle in America was Richard Waterman. It is not known when he arrived upon the shores of Massachusetts Bay, but he seems to have been living in Boston in 1629. In that year he was sent to the vicinity of Salem to secure venison for the colony. He became a follower of Anne Hutchinson and was forced to leave the colony on that account in 1638 and flee to Rhode Island, where he reared a family and where some of his descendents live to this day. He was brought back to Boston in 1643 and tried for herisy, but acquited.

In 1634, Thomas Waterman landed on this continent and settled in what is now Roxbury, Massachusetts. He has descendents living at the present time.

There is also a record of the arrival on the ship Jonathan in 1639 of John Waterman, a boy, and that he went to live in Sudbury; but there the record ends. What became of him is unknown.

In 1636, came Robert Waterman to Plymouth, the home of the Pilgrims. This man is the founder of that line of the family which afterward settled in what is now the state of Maine. Tradition has it that the four men already mentioned were brothers; but I have found no record of it.

About the same date of the arrival of Robert, there are ship records of the sailings of Lieutenant Humphrey Waterman and Thomas Waterman for the Barbados Islands (the former owned a plantation there of 186 acres and had 92 slaves); also of the sailings of Katherine and Ann Waterman for Virginia.

A Rev. Thomas Waterman, who was born in London, came to Charlestown, Massachusetts, just before the breaking out of the Revolutionary War; but he left no descendents of the name.

There were, as least, two officers of the family on the British side in the Revolutionary War: First Lieutenant Elisha Waterman of the Rangers, and Ensign Thomas Waterman of the First Regiment.

This narrative is an account of Robert Waterman and his descendants, and more especially those who settled in the state of Maine.

First Generation.

1 Robert Waterman came to Plymouth from Norwich, England, in 1636. At this time the settlers in the immediate vicinity of Plymouth had taken up most of the available land, so that these late comers had to push out in boats along the shores of Massachusetts Bay to find suitable settling places. Although a living could be obtained by hunting and fishing, land was the great desire of the colonists, partly because it was the natural way of obtaining a living in those primitive days in any country and partly because the owner of real estate was held in such high regard in the mother country. Robert Waterman found a suitable place of settlement near Green's Harbor in what is now the town of Marshfield, Massachusetts, and near what is now known as the Daniel Webster place. Here he lived until his death which occurred Dec. 12, 1652. He was a prominent man in the town— was a selectman, and deputy to the legislature from 1644 to 1649. On the 11th of December, 1638, he was married to Elizabeth Bourne, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Bourne, of Plymouth, and apparently they had five children:

2 John, born April 19, 1642.
3 Joseph, born in 1643.
4 Thomas, born in 1644.
5 Robert, born in 1652.
6 Elizabeth.

The existence of this daughter, Elizabeth, rests entirely on the will of John (2), who makes bequest to Elizabeth Rider, "daughter of my sister Elizabeth".

Second Generation.

2 Ensign or Deacon John Waterman was born in Marshfield, Massachusetts, April 19, 1642, and married Ann Sturtevant, daughter of Samuel and Ann Sturtevant, of Plymouth, Dec. 7, 1665 (She was born June 4, 1648). For a while they lived in Marshfield, but sometime between 1685 and 1692 they moved to Warwick, Rhode Island. They had twelve children as follows:

7 Samuel, born in Marshfield, Oct. 16, 1666.
8 Elizabeth, born in Marshfield, Jan. 15, 1669.
9 Anna, born in Marshfield, Oct. 18, 1671.
10 Lydia, born in Marshfield, May 9, 1676.
11 Robert, born in Marshfield, Feb 9, 1681.
12 John, born in Marshfield, Sept. 23, 1685.
13 Elizabeth, born in Warwick, April 18, 1692.
14 Mercy, born in Warwick, June 27, 1694.
15 Annie, born in Warwick, May 20, 1696.
16 John, born in Warwick, Feb. 5, 1698.
17 Benoni, born in Warwick, May 25, 1701.
18 Resolved, born in Warwick, Oct. 13, 1703.

Ensign John died Sept. 14, 1718, and his wife Feb. 9, 1719.

3 Joseph Waterman, son of Robert (1), was born in Marshfield in 1643 and died in the same town, Jan. 1, 1712. He married Sarah Snow, daughter of Anthony and Abigail [Warren] Snow. She was born in 1651 and died Dec. 11, 1741. It seems he succeeded to the home farm and lived there all his life. He and Josiah Winslow were joint guardians of his younger brothers, Thomas and Robert. Seven children were born to this couple, as follows:

19 Sarah, born May 4, 1674, married Solomon Hurst.

20 Joseph, born June 20, 1676.

21 Elizabeth, born Sept. 7, 1679, married Ichabod Bartlett.

22 Abigail, born Dec. 31, 1681, married Kendall Winslow, Jr.

23 Anthony, born June 4, 1684. wife Elizabeth Arnold

24 Bethia, born Aug. 20, 1687, married Samuel Daggitt.

25 Lydia, born Feb. 20, 1689, married John Thomas.

John Thomas and Lydia Waterman were the parents of Gen. John Thomas, for whom the city of Thomaston, Maine, was named.

4 Thomas Waterman, son of Robert (1), was born in Marshfield Nov. 30, 1644, and died in 1708. He married in November, 1668, Marion Tracy, daughter of Lieut. Thomas and Mary [Mason] Tracy. When Thomas arrived at the years of manhood, the young men on the shores of Massachusetts Bay were settling about the coast of Connecticut and in the valley of the river by the same name. Thomas joined in this emigration and became one of the original settlers of what is now Norwich, Conn., in 1659. Here he lived and died and his descendents have spread out over that state, New York and Vermont. His children were as follows:

26 Thomas, born in September, 1670.

27 John, born in March, 1672.

28 Joseph, born Jan. 15, 1685.

29 Elizabeth, who married John Fitch.

After the above was written records of three other children were found:

× 29a ~~Marion~~ Martha, born in April, ~~1678~~, married Capt. Reinald Marion. Marion

29b Lydia, born in August, 1683.

29c Ann, born in April, 1689.

5 Robert, last remaining son of the first Robert, was born in 1652 and died May 18, 1741. On Sept. 30, 1675, he married Susanna Lincoln, daughter of Daniel and Susanna Lincoln. She was born May 14, 1654 and died Feb. 10, 1696. He married for a second wife, Feb. 20, 1698, Sarah Lincoln, widow of Thomas Lincoln, and daughter of James and Sarah [Lane] Lewis. She died Jan. 30, 1731, aged 71 years. While living with his first wife he resided at Hingham, Mass., but moved to Barnstable, same colony, when he married the Widow Lincoln. By his first wife he had six children, one of whom was still born Feb. 18, 1680. The others were as follows:

× Martha m. Capt. Reinold Marion. She was prob. a dau. of Waterman's 2d wife Martha whom he m. at Mansfield, Ct. wife dau. Miriam d. unmarried.

30 Susanna, born May 4, 1677, married Ephraim Nichols.

31 Thomas, born Aug. 17, 1679, died Jan. 2, 1695.

32 Elizabeth, born Aug. 13, 1682, died Jan. 2, 1695.

33 Robert, born Nov. 14, 1684, died Nov. 3, 1703.

34 Josiah, born Nov. 23, 1687. He married, Feb. 20, 1711, Elizabeth Marsh, and died at Weymouth, Mass., in 1772, but leaving no children.

Robert, by his second wife, had three children:

35 Lydia, born May 13, 1700, married Samuel Capen.

36 Thomas, born Jan. 19, 1701, married Mary Beal.

37 Hannah, born May 22, 1704, married Theophilas Cushing.

Third Generation.

7 Deacon Samuel Waterman, son of John (2), was born at Marshfield, Oct. 16, 1666, married in Taunton, Mass., July 16, 1692, to Mary Ranson, and settled in Plymouth, where he died March 10, 1718. Four children were born to them:

38 Annie, born Dec. 7, 1697, married Giles Leach, Nov. 3, 1721.

39 Samuel, born Sept. 23, 1703, married Mary Doty at Plympton, Mass., Aug. 23, 1722.

40 John, born Jan. 12, 1705.

41 Hannah, born March 13, 1706, married William Morse at Plympton, May 22, 1728.

11 Deacon Robert Waterman, son of John (2), was born at Marshfield, Feb. 9, 1681, and died at Plympton, Jan. 16, 1750. He had three wives—the first, Mary Cushman, daughter of Rev. Isaac and Rebecca [Richards] Cushman, who was born at Plymouth, Oct. 12, 1682, was married March 19, 1702, and died March 13, 1723; the second, Elizabeth Cushman, daughter of Deacon Elkanah Cushman, who died March 13, 1725, aged 39 years, 1 month and 24 days; and the third, Abigail Dingley. In tracing the places of settlement of the Waterman family, it is found that the first two generations settled on the sea coast, because there were no roads in the interior; but in time the immediate coast that was accessible by water became settled and the third generation is found pushing into the interior. The American settlements, except where navigable rivers interfered with the natural method, grew like a tree, with an additional ring of settlements extending into the interior each year. Deacon Robert pushed out from Marshfield into the interior and settled at Plympton. He had nine children:

41 Issac, born May 11, 1703, married Elizabeth Bryant Dec. 23, 1725.

42 Josiah, born March 5, 1705, married Joanna Bryant, Feb. 12, 1723.

43 Thomas, born in October, 1707, married Mercy Freeman June 12, 1728.

44 Rebecca, born Oct. 9, 1710, married first Joseph Holmes May 20, 1731; and second, William Rand.

45 Robert, born March 5, 1713 and died at Halifax, Mass., Sept. 9, 1761.

46 Mary, born Feb. 25, 1716, married Jonathan Holmes, and died at Halifax Jan. 26, 1750.

47 Samuel, born Aug. 11, 1718.

48 Anna, born March 6, 1721.

49 Abigail, born March 5, 1722.

12 Capt. John Waterman, son of Ensign John (2), was born in Marshfield, Sept. 23, 1685, and married Lydia Cushman, daughter of Eleazar and Elizabeth [Coombs] Cushman, of Plymouth, Dec. 19, 1709 (She was born Dec. 13, 1687). He seems to have lived first at Plympton and then at Halifax, Mass., where he died June 8, 1761. Seven children were born to this couple, the first four at Plympton and the remaining three at Halifax:

50 Sarah, born Nov. 8, 1709.

51 Joseph, born Feb. 10, 1711, married first Patience Barrows, and second the widow Joanna [Tillson] Fuller.

52 Perez, born Oct. 8, 1713, married Abigail Bryant.

53 Anthony, born June 26, 1716, married Hannah Vaughn.

54 John, born July 3, 1718, married Fear Sturtevant.

55 Eleazar born Aug. 3, 1721, married Alice Bosworth.

56 Lydia, born April 7, 1724.

16 Capt. John Waterman, son of Ensign John (2), was born in Warwick, R. I., Feb. 5, 1698. It will thus be seen that Ensign John had two sons by the name of John, and both captains in the militia. The first was born in Massachusetts and the second in Rhode Island. The second John lived and died in his native town. He had two wives, the first Hannah Townsend, whom he married June 5, 1729, and the second Mercy Stafford, married in 1741. Of the two unions five children were born:

57 Thomas, born May 27, 1731.

58 John, born Jan. 11, 1739.

59 Hannah, born Dec. 30, 1740, and died Jan. 12, 1741.

60 Mercy, born Dec. 31, 1742, and married Waterman Tibbitts, Dec. 13, 1764.

61 William, born March 6, 1744, and married Phoebe Arnold March 10, 1769.

17 Benoni Waterman, son of John (2), was born in Warwick, R I., May 25, 1701. He lived and died in the same town, and married, Feb 11, 1725, Sarah Tucker, and to them were born—

62 Mary, May 6, 1726.

63 John, Aug. 25, 1730, who married Sarah Potter June 13, 1754.

64 Benjamin, May 22, 1732.

18 Resolved, son of John (2), was born in Warwick, April 19, 1692, married, Oct. 12, 1732, Sarah Carr, and to them were born—

65 John, July 8, 1733.

66 Edward, March 30, 1735.

67 Resolved, June 23, 1737.

68 Caleb, June 30, 1739.

69 Sarah, Jan. 23, 1742, and married William Smith Nov. 17, 1765.

70 Avis, March 1, 1744, married Thurstian Gardner, Dec. 22, 1768.

71 Phoebe, April 11, 1748, married Benj. Lockwood, Apr. 5, 1772.

72 Hannah, Oct. 12, 1750.

There is a record of the marriage of Hannah, March 29, 1761, to Nathaniel Hill. If this is true she would have been only 11 years old.

20 Joseph, son of Joseph (3), was born in Marshfield, Jan. 26, 1676, and died in the same town Nov. 23, 1715. He married, June 16, 1709, Susanna Snow, daughter of Josiah Snow of Marshfield, who died in September, 1741, aged 90 years. I have the record of only one child, a son named Joseph (73), who died March 28, 1715—the same year with his father.

23 Anthony, son of Joseph (3), was born June 4, 1684 and died April 3, 1715. Was born, lived and died in Marshfield. He married Elizabeth Arnold and to them were born—

74 Thomas, born in 1710.

75 Joseph, born in 1711.

76 Zebulon, born in 1713.

77 Arpha, born in 1715, married first Michael Ford and second Aaron Soule.

26 Thomas, son of Thomas (4), born in Norwich, Conn., in 1670, in which town he married Elizabeth Allen and by her had—

78 Thomas, who married Sarah Harkins.

79 John.

80 Elizabeth.

81 Ebenezar.

82 Daniel.

83 Elisha.

84 Asa.

85 Sarah.

86 Nehemiah.

27 John, son of Thomas (4), was born in Norwich in 1672 and married Elizabeth Lathrop. They had one daughter, Hannah (87), who when she grew up married first Absalom King and second Benedict Arnold. She thus became the mother of Gen. Benedict Arnold of the Revolution, afterwards the traitor, which comes the nearest of anything to being a skeleton in the closet of the Waterman family. Mrs. Arnold's family was very prominent in the business and social circles of the community.

36 Thomas, son of Robert (5), was born in Barnstable, Mass., Jan. 19, 1701, but after marrying Hannah Beal, went to Hingham, which had been the former home of his father. Following is a list of children born to them:

89 Thomas, in 1731.
90 Mary, in 1733.
91 Josiah, in 1735.
92 Daniel, in 1736.
93 Sarah, in 1739.
94 Lydia, in 1742.

Fourth Generation.

34 Samuel, son of Samuel (7), was born in Plymouth, Sept. 23, 1703, and married Mary Doty, daughter of Joseph and Deborah [Hatch] Doty. They settled at Plymouth, where they had two children:

106 John, born in 1744.

107 James, born in 1745 and married Joanna Wood in 1770.

51 Joseph, son of John (12), was born in Plympton, Feb. 2, 1711. He married for his first wife Patience Barrows and for his second wife the widow Joanna [Tillson] Fuller. He lived first at Middleboro, Mass., but about 1760 moved to Halifax. He had by his two wives fourteen children as follows:

108 Perez.

54 Lieut. John Waterman, son of Capt. John (12), was born July 3, 1718, and died April 26, 1790. He married at Halifax, Oct. 2, 1743, Fear Sturtevant, daughter of William and Fear [Cushman] Sturtevant. She was born at Halifax, April 5, 1720, and died in the same town Jan. 17, 1790. 43 Thomas Waterman, son of Robert (11), was born in October, 1707, married June 12, 1728, Mercy Freeman, daughter of Jonathan and Mercy [Bradford] Freeman, and settled in Halifax, where one son, Freeman (183), was born to them, who married Joanna Thompson, Dec. 18, 1776, settled in his native town and died April 5, 1830. Thomas appears to have bought land in Scarboro, Maine, for he disposed of a piece in that place May 24, 1729, as per record among the York County deeds, and probably lived there, being the first of several Watermans from the vicinity of Halifax to settle in Maine. It appears that he had three wives, marrying for the second time Lydia Faunce, daughter of John Faunce, of Kingston, Mass., and widow of Ebenezar Washburn, and for the third time, June 5, 1763, the widow Joanna Harlow. Tradition says he had in all seven children and the following appear to have been born in Scarboro:

186 Calvin.
187 Prince.

45 Robert Waterman, son of Robert (11), born March 2, 1713, and died Sept. 9, 1761, married Martha Cushman, daughter of Josiah and Susanna [Shurtleff] Cushman. She was born Jan. 12, 1713, and died Sept. 25, 1770. They had seven children born to them in Halifax, all of whom died young. I have records of the following:

193 Oliver, born in 1760.

194 Sylvanus, born in 1768.

197 John, born Sept. 12, 1758 and died March 9, 1759.

198 Deacon John, 2d, born Dec. 19, 1756, married Walthian Green Feb. 3, 1782. A grandson of Deacon John Waterman (198), Henry Waterman (198b), son of John R. Waterman (198a), claimed the distinction of issuing the first postage stamps used in this country. He was postmaster at Millbury, Mass., in 1839. At that time, postmasters cancelled letters by writing their names across the envelope, with the amount of postage due. He conceived the idea of having stamps made for this purpose, so he drew the design and had them printed to attach to letters. His example was followed by other postmasters. A Millbury stamp to-day is worth from $800 to $1200. He died at Woonsocket, R. I., March 13, 1902, at the age of 86 years.

199 Mary, born May 22, 1761.

Part Second.

Watermans of Maine.

This narrative is more especially a record of the Maine Watermans, and the first four generations of the family, who resided in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, have been introduced to show their origen. Some members of the family who settled in New Hampshire and Vermont have been considered here because some of their descendants now live in the staté of Maine.

Although the first settlements of New England were made by emigrants from England, a large portion of the final settlement of the country was made by the descendants of these early settlers. It has been seen how these descendants spread along the coasts of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, then slowly to the interior of these colonies, so it was only a question of time when they would reach the coast of Maine, first an independent colony and afterward a district of Massachusetts; and, after the formation of the United States, it became a state in 1820. The first person by the name of Waterman, so far as I have been able to ascertain, to live in Maine, was Thomas (43), already mentioned, who appears to have lived in Scarboro as early as 1729, and to have reared a family there, although the records of this family are scanty. So far as I know, no other member of the family arrived within the bordors of the district for thirty-nine years.

So far as I am able to ascertain, all of the Watermans in Maine, with three exceptions, are decendants of Robert Waterman. In conducting my investigations, I learned that there are now residing in the state of Maine three families bearing the name of Waterman, who are of German descent, the heads of the famlies having been born in the Province of Hanover. They are the families of Julius Waterman of Bangor, Morris Waterman of Portland, and Adolph H. Waterman of Bath.

Fifth Generation.

114 Joseph Waterman, son of Joseph (51), was born in Halifax, Nov. 12, 1750, and was married to Lucy Josling Monroe, of Hanover, Mass., Nov. 4, 1776. He served in the Revolutionary War. In 1782, he, in connection with his brothers, Noah, John, Robert and Daniel, emigrated to Bakerstown in the District of Maine. At that time Bakerstown was on the frontier, but rapidly being settled. This plantation had been granted by Massachusetts to the survivors of the companies of Capt. John March, Capt. Stephen Greenleaf and Capt. Philip Nelson in the expedition to Canada in 1690, in the year 1736, and laid out in what proved to be the Colony of New Hampshire and therefore outside the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. To make up for the loss of this land a new grant was made in Maine in 1765. It was named for Capt. Thomas Baker, who was killed in an Indian battle in 1720, and to this Bakerstown Joseph Waterman came. He settled on an eminence afterwards known as Pottle Hill. In 1795, the Plantation of Bakerstown was incorporated as the ninety-fifth town and named Poland. It was a very large and unwieldy town and seven years later it was divided, that part lying on the western side of the Little Androscoggin River retaining the name of Poland and that on the eastern side being named Minot. Pottle Hill was in Minot. In 1791, the first church (Congregational) was organized in Bakerstown, and Joseph Waterman's name headed the list of members. He lived for quite a number of years in Minot and then moved to the town of Knox, where he died. His children were—

219 Henry J.
220 Jonah.
221 Joseph.
222 Lucy, married —— Kendall of Waldo.
223 Nabby, married —— Packard of Camden.
224 Ruth, married —— Bartlett of Searsmont.
225 Lydia, married —— Ames of Appleton.
226 Rebecca, married —— Ulmer of Appleton.

116 Noah Waterman, son of Joseph (51), was born in 1754 and married Esther Ellis. He was a Revolutionary soldier. He settled near his brother, Joseph, on Pottle Hill, but afterwards moved to the southern part of the town of Minot. The town of Minot, like the town of Poland, was doomed to be divided, and that part on which Noah finally settled was set off in 1842 to form the town (now the city) of Auburn, and here the descendants of Noah Waterman live. His children were—

227 Jonah, born June 8, 1781, married Pamalla Record.

228 Joanna, born Nov. 12, 1786.

229 Lodowick, born May 10, 1789, married first Prudence Dillingham and second Mary Shaw.

230 Noah, born June 12, 1792.

231 Ellis, born Feb. 7, 1798.

119 John Waterman, son of Joseph (51), was born June 25, 1761, and married Mary Harris. He settled first on Pottle Hill and then moved to Poland. Children:

232 Tillson, born Nov. 3, 1786 and died March 2, 1867.

233 John, born Oct. 11, 1788.

234 Mary, born Nov. 7, 1790.

235 Jacob, born Sept. 20, 1794.

236 Otis C., born July 19, 1797.

There may have been other children.

120 Daniel Waterman, son of Joseph (51), was born in 1768. He also settled on Pottle Hill, but seems to have gone to New Gloucester (just south of Bakerstown) and gained a residence there. New Gloucester at this time was a frontier station where persons looking for land farther north made headquarters until a suitable selection could be made. Thus intending settlers or their families often lived in New Gloucester for a year or two while preparing a home in the plantations farther north. Daniel Waterman married a wife here Nov. 7, 1793—Abigail True, daughter of Jabez True. His final settlement was in Poland. Children:

237 Jabez, born July 20, 1794, married Rebecca Downing, and died in Poland, April 2, 1877.

238 Abigail, born Nov. 12, 1795, married Barnabus Haskell.

239 Daniel, Jr., born May 24, 1797, married Anna Hrrris and died in Poland Dec. 16, 1882.

240 Hannah, born March 6, 1798 and died July 12, 1825.

241 Benjamin, born May 11, 1799, married Irene Emery Dec. 5, 1824, and died in Poland, Aug. 7, 1838.

242 Anna, born March 25, 1800, married John Bailey Jan. 10, 1827 and died in Poland Jan. 31, 1880.

243 Henry.

244 Rebecca, married Nathaniel Pulsifer.

245 Sally.

246 Sarah T.

247 Ruby N., married Benjamin Dunn.

248 Charles N., died May 24, 1841

121 Robert Waterman, son of Joseph (51), was born in 1764 and came to Bakerstown with his brothers, living first on Pottle Hill, then at Poland Corner. He was the owner of a mill at this place. He was quite a prominent man in Poland, holding several town offices. He was postmaster at Poland. Later in life he moved to Warren, Maine. His wife was Priscilla Haskell and they had five children, the first two born in Bakerstown and the last three after that plantation was incorporated as Poland:

249 Robert, born Feb. 3, 1788.

250 Thomas, born April 10, 1790.

251 Mary (or Mercy), born Aug. 41, 1805, married Jabez Haskell, and died July 4, 1851.

252 William, born Sept. 8, 1809 and died at Warren June 14, 1834.

253 Priscilla, married Elisha Wylie of Union, Maine.

Robert and Thomas settled in Belfast, Maine, where their descendants now live.

144 Gen. William Waterman. was a son of Lieut. John (54). He was born in Halifax, Mass., in 1750 and married Betsey Watts. He settled in Buxton, Maine, where he was quite a prominent man. He seems to have won his title in the state militia. The Buxton and Hollis Light Infantry was organized. according to the Buxton Centennial History, published in 1874, sometime between 1806 and 1811. In the latter year the ladies of Buxton gave the company a stand of colors, and at that time William Waterman was the lieutenant. He was afterwards captain of the company.. During the War of 1812, this company was called into service and served thirty days at Biddeford Pool, Children:

254 William.
255 David.
256 Luther.
257 James.
258 Perez.
259 Charles.
260 George.

263 Mary Ann.
264 Harriet.

176 Ichabod Waterman, son of Josiah (42), was born at Plympton, Mass., Nov. 3, 1723, and married Hannah Rogers, daughter of Benjamin and Phoebe (Harndon) Rogers. They settled first in Kingston, Mass., where their children were born, and then became some of the first settlers of the town of Buckfield, (then called Bucktown) Maine. After living there a few years, fear of the Indians drove them back to Kingston. Children:

265 Lydia, born Nov. 5, 1758, married Elijah Faunce and died at Kingston in 1849.

266 Benjamin, born Aug. 8, 1760, married Lucy Bradford and died at Kingston in 1845.

267 Zenas, born Dec. 29, 1762, married Eunice Dean of Scarboro.

268 James, born March 21, 1765, married Keziah Smith of Turner, Maine, July 25, 1792, and died in Buckfield in 1861.

269 Ichabod, born Aug. 12, 1767, married Parthena Carter and died at Kingston in 1859.

270 Hannah, born June 9, 1770, married Silas Maxim and died at South Paris, Maine, in 1849.

271 Phoebe, born Dec. 30, 1771, married Caleb Swift and died at Paris, Maine, in 1847.

272 Thomas Rogers, born March 10, 1776, married Polly Ellis and died at Sangerville, Maine in 1862.

Thomas Rogers Waterman settled first in Buckfield and afterwards moved to Sangerville.

174 Malachi Waterman was brobably the son of Thomas (43). I have no record of his marriage but he was published in Gorham, Maine, Dec. 21, 1776, to Mary Darker. He served two enlistments in the Revolutionary army, one in Capt. Samuel Whitmore's company of Flagg's Regiment, enlisting from Gorham, and one in Capt. Adam Martin's company, Tyler's Regiment, enlisting from Scarboro, Maine. At the close of the Revolution, he settled in Turner, Maine, then known as Sylvester Canada, but after living there a few years returned to Gorham. He died in Baldwin, Maine. Feb. 12, 1824. Five children were born to this couple in Gorham :

273 Sarah, born July 22, 1785.

274 Mary, born Nov. 13, 1787.

275 Statira, born Sept 25, 1791.

276 Ebenezar, born Sept. 15, 1795.

277 John, born June 19, 1797.

There may have been other children.

187 Prince Waterman was also a probable son of Thomas (43). He was an early settler of the town of Turner, coming to Keen's Mills about 1780, and was the first blacksmith in the town. He married Lucinda Bates and their children were—

278 Guy Bates, born April 10, 1795, married first Esther Brown, daughter of Samuel Brown of Hebron, Maine, and second Lydia Carver Tucker. He died in Durham, Maine, Feb. 28. 1875.

191 Seth Waterman, son of Samuel (47), was born July 1, 1740, and married Hannah Perkins, of Plympton, Mass., July 26, 1762. They settled in New Hampshire and had at least one son Zephaniah (282a).

192 Samuel Waterman, son of Samuel (47), was born July 6, 1743, and died at Wellfleet, Mass., Aug. 10, 1825. He was a graduate of Harvard College. He married Sarah Foster and they are said to have had seven children. Their sons Robert and Samuel died without children. It may be that they had a son Foster, who settled in Durham, Maine.

193 Oliver Waterman, son of Samuel (47) was born at Halifax, Mass., in 1760 and died at Savoy, Mass , Nov. 5, 1833. There is a record of four children :

204 Capt. Joseph Waterman, son of Thomas (74), was born in Marshfield in 1738, and married Deborah Winslow, daughter of Governor Winslow of Massachusetts. He was a sea captain and in early life commanded a coasting vessel. He made a number of voyages along the coast of Maine, and, among other places, visited the Fox Islands. He made a temporary settlement at what is now Vinalhaven as early as 1760, and was thus the second man by the name of Waterman to settle in Maine; but the Revolutionary War coming on and the British being predominant in that section, the settlement was given up. He came back for good at the close of that struggle and was one of the petitioners for the incorporation of Vinalhaven in 1785. He was the first selectman of the plantation, and was the first treasurer of the town after incorporation, which office he held for seven years. Children:

293 Thomas, was born in Marshfield and married Lucy Sampson of Duxbury, Mass.

294 Abigail, married Eben Carver of Vinalhaven.

295 Olive, married Rev. Benjamin Ames.

306 Thomas, married Margeret Bunker.

307 Deborah Louise, married Joseph Eaton.

307a Mary, married Dr. Heupt.

308 Bannister Waterman, parentage unknown, was a soldier in Capt. Simeon Thayer's company in the Arnold Expedition of the Revolution up the Kennebec, Dead and Chaudiere rivers to Quebec, and because of that may have been as interesting a member of the family as ever came to Maine. This company was raised in the vicinity of Newburyport, Mass., and quite likely he was a native some of the towns near by. The sufferings of the expedition from exposure and hunger are well known and it is a wonder that any member reached the St. Lawrence alive. It is needless to remind the reader that the assault on Quebec, for which they had marched these several hundred miles and braved all these hardships was disastrous. Bannister Waterman was among those who were taken prisoners on the assaul of the city, Dec. 31, 1775.

Sixth Generation.

He was selectman of the town in 1831 and 1832; and represented the town in the legislature in 1830. July 1, 1822, he married Ann Anderson, daughter of Abraham and Lucy (Smith) Anderson, who was born Dec. 7, 1797, and died Sept. 7, 1871. Mrs. Waterman, on her father's side, was the granddaughter of Abraham Anderson, the first settler of Windham, and on her mother's side, granddaughter of Rev. Peter T. Smith, second minister of the town. This family had in their possession a spinet made in London in 1390 by Thomas Hitchcock. Two children were born to them:

Conclusion.

Humanity is ever restless like the ocean. The wind of destiny blows the nations hither and thither They are found on one shore today and another tomorrow. These human currants, or migrations, began in the days of Adam and have continued to the present time. If a man could have lived to thrice the age of Methuselah, and have been stationed at some paint of vantage where he could have observed the triumphal march of nations from the beginning, he would have seen a more interesting pageant than any theatrical effect could produce. Before him would have passed the Chaldean, Egytian, Greek, Roman, Goth and Saxon, to say nothing of more modern nations. In the far retrospect, it is the nation which counts, while the component parts, the families, are forgotten in the lapse of years. Occasionally some individual name survives to show us the influence of the individual upon the social mass, and that the family, in some form, has always been the basis of society. Hence the interest in the family. The foregoing pages contain a family history for nearly three centuries and show the the typical family life of New England for those years. The pioneer life of this section was English and so remained for 200 years, and this is the story of English settlers. About half a century ago there was an Irish invasion to build the railroads and mills of the section. These people have been assimilated with the mass and today are American. A quarter of a century ago, the French Canadian arrived as a mill operative. Today he is taking up the general walks of New England life, and his special place as mill operative is being taken by Greeks and Poles. The builders are Italians. So a new job of assimilation must be taken up. The history of the future cannot be the history of the past, for the blood will have changed and consequently the manners; but it will still be a story of migration.
